

"The Union it must and shall be preserved," is a sentiment which uttered by that lion of Democracy, the renowned Andrew Jackson, in a moment of impending national calamity, curbed the passions of the South and averted the storm which was extended to clutch the whole of the Union. These words, glowing from your transparencies, these words speaking from your flags should in this crisis kindle anew with every thro' your Democratic hearts. It is in this hour of sympathy, as it is in this hour of loyalty, to which we appeal, in this great confederacy, to enable us in this shelter and blessings, is proving to unnumbered millions of the sons of toil, far more than 'the shadow of a wing' a refuge from the scourge of life. You walk by the flickering light of no stars obscured and sickled off by fanaticism and treason, but upon your pathway is poured the glowing effulgence of the entire national constellation, uniting and unifying the people in the sunny days of prosperity and brotherhood. Faith was dear to you, how much more precious is it in this darkening hour of aggression and distraction, when the lightnings are flashing

"My Honor please, as a good citizen" I feel bound to obey the order of this Court, and intend to do so in this instance; but as I don't happen to have $30 about me, I shall be compelled to borrow it of some friend, and as I see no one present whose confidence and friendship I have long enjoyed as your Honor's I make no hesitation in asking the small favor of a loan for a few days, to square up the amount to the fines that you have made the clerk to enter against me.
 This was a stunner. Thow Judge looked at Ton, and then at the clerk; and finally said:
 "Clerk, remit Mr. Marshall's fines; the State is better able to lose $30 than I am." ANOTHER PRETEXT—Prentice has been making a beautiful case for some time about certain information given by Gov. Letcher's post-ter, in relation to the alleged bargain and intrigue in slavery, and the letter he says Mr. Buchanan wrote to Mr. Clay in 1846. He has told his readers a great many times that both would be ready to publish, and assured them that he would never consent to it.
 It now turns out that Gov. Letcher knew nothing of it, and that he had no such post-ter, in relation to the matter. There is no such "letter as Prentice has been telling us that he had intended to institute. He has been "tried" a gain and found guilty. The Democratic party is willing that he should be anything, but not a liar. He has been punished. Come on with the truth, then, but not more standers.—Rich. Dem.

ent out of a better man than either Scrogg man or the Shrieker's man, and will elect Jam

Here then are two witnesses from Mr. Fillmore's own State, both of whom are leaders in this party and ardently advocate his election. They urge his claims to Northern support, upon the ground of his well known anti-slavery opinions and record. Why do men of the South urge election is clearest? It is because of his oaths before General Augustus Adolphus Scroggs? Why do they do so they expect of him? His friends answer "Anti-Slavery," his platform answers "Anti-Slavery and Anti-Nebraska;" his record says Anti-Slavery and Anti-Nebraska. The New York press clearly proclaims that Fremont has a better prospect for Fremont than Fillmore; will Southern men vote for Fremont or not, why should they vote for Fillmore? They vote for a matter for the supporters of Mr. Fillmore to decide.

The Democracy are content to make a president out of a better man than either Scroggs or Fremont or the Shrieker's man, and will elect James

We are able to announce the most gratifying news to our readers. The Democracy are a work earnestly all over the State. Meetings are held in the different townships frequently, and the finest spirit prevails. In every county, where the mass meetings form the ranks of the Old Line Whigs and from other parties; and nowhere is there indifference or despondency. Even in those regions where Abolitionism has boasted of no majorities, the friends of the Constitution are in the field with their armor on.

TOWACCO.—(Owing to the difficulty and cost of shipment, several buyers of shipping tobacco have retired from the market, a few, however, are buying sparingly. Early in the week prices favored the purchaser, but on Thursday the market fully recovered, and we confine the quotations in our last review. All the grades of tobacco required for some manufacturing purposes are considered full and firm prices, and the buyers have met with a ready sale.

We quote Lugs, common and light weight, 5 50¢ to 50; Do, full shipping weight, 7 50¢ to 90; Medium Leaf, 8 00¢ to 50; Prime Leaf, 9 50¢ to 110; Extra Choice Manufacturing Leaf, 13 00 to 150 to the highest figure obtained this season for Kentucky 22 75, depending entirely upon the quality and competition by resident manufacturers.

URBANS' SAFES.

C. URBAN, Esq. Dear Sir—We take pleasure in expressing our entire satisfaction with the utility of your Salamander safes, of which we had two in view since I left Cincinnati, and which were exposed to the flames of a late severe conflagration. Surrounded by the most combustible materials, and exposed to the flames days in the burning range, our safes was beyond destruction, and the contents were perfectly preserved in good order. In rendering you our sincere gratification, we do not hesitate to recommend your safes to be in stock of such articles, as we know from experience that they truly are.

We remain very truly yours,

I would call the attention of my friends and the public in general to the above notice, and to the fact that W. R. & Co., extensive import merchants, it is well known, have introduced into the several cities of the different States, have stock of, and give severe tests to, all the various kinds of the first and second quality dressed, that is Messrs. Parrie & Co., iron safe manufacturers of London, and Messrs. H. & A. Parrie, of Glasgow, Scotland. These safes all come with their doors that of Messrs. Greenleaf & Barnard, of New York, and the others, are all of the same construction, and surrounded by the most combustible materials, although they are all of the same quality, and are all of the same size, and are inferior to none made in any country. I have seen them all, and I am convinced of their durability. I thank you for the notice, and a continuation of patronage is kindly solicited.
